SPECIAL LOW BULB TRADE PRICE-LIST, F. R. PIERSON, TARRYTOWN, N. Y.

LILIAM ♦ LONGIFLORUM

BULBS READY FOR DELIVERY EARLY IN SEPTEMBER.

☞ We offer only Bermuda-grown Bulbs of this. ☞

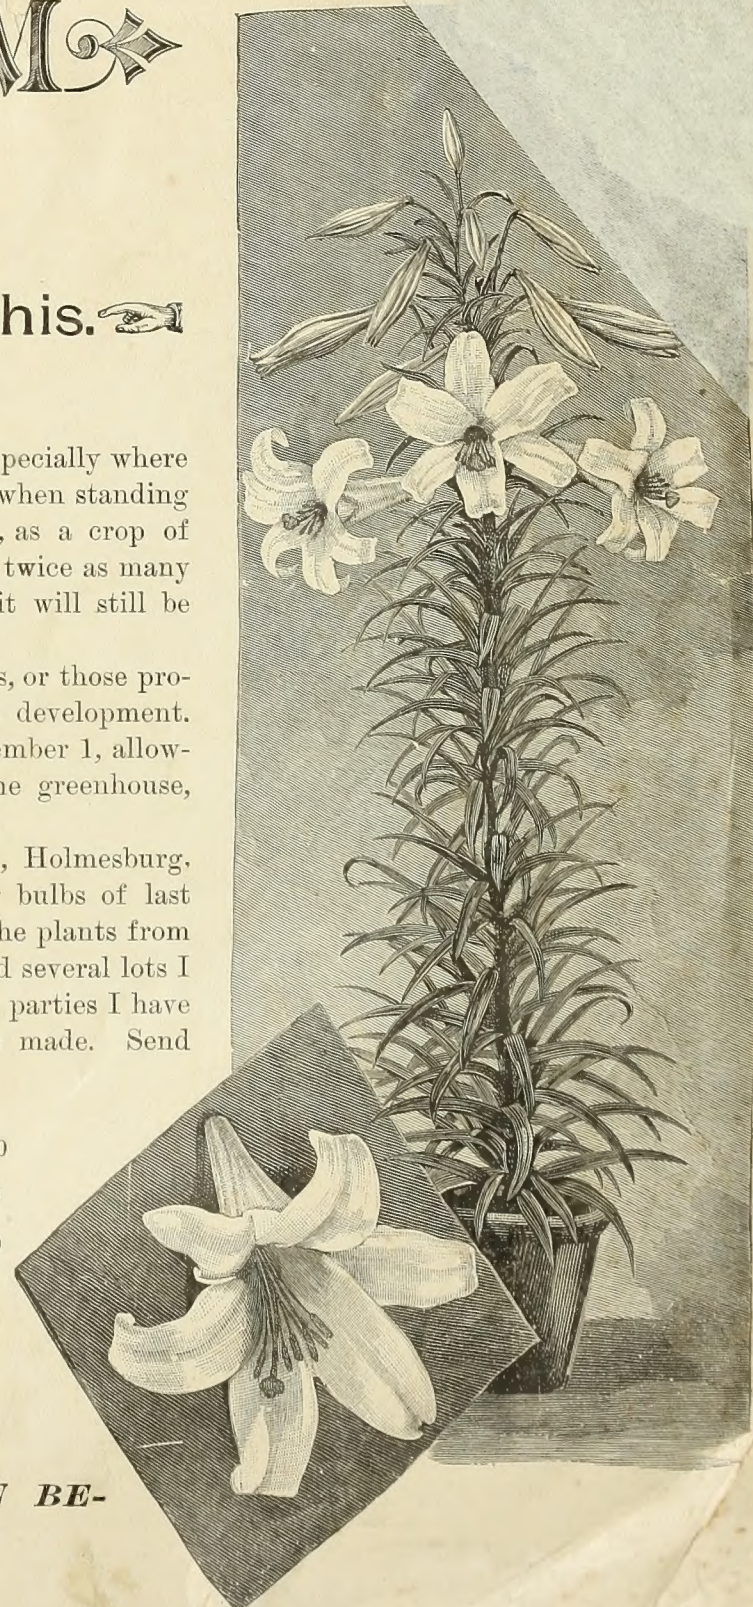

Lilium Longiflorum is still preferred by many large cut-flower growers for Easter forcing, especially where pot plants are sold, as the foliage is considerably heavier than Harrisi, forming a better pot plant when standing alone. For cut-flower purposes it is nothing like as good or profitable as Harrisi even at Easter, as a crop of Harrisi can be grown in almost half the time it requires to flower a crop of Longiflorum, while twice as many plants of Harrisi can be grown in the same space. Nevertheless, for pot plants for Easter it will still be largely grown.

Florists will find our Bermuda-grown Longiflorums very superior to any home-grown bulbs, or those procurable from any other source, as the soil and climate in Bermuda seem adapted to their perfect development. Another valuable consideration is that our Bermuda-grown Longiflorum can be delivered by September 1, allowing the bulbs to be potted and become well rooted and established before they are brought into the greenhouse, thus enabling them to be grown cool and develop slowly, ensuring the very best results.

The following extract from the letter of a large Philadelphia grower, Chas. D. Ball, Esq., Holmesburg, Philadelphia, Pa., when giving his order, is to the point in this connection. He says: "Your bulbs of last year [our Bermuda-grown] turned out elegantly; I never had a lot that gave me better results. The plants from the bulbs I got from you were acknowledged by all to be by far the best around Philadelphia, and several lots I shipped to New York were also complimented highly. I believe you will receive some orders from parties I have recommended your bulbs to, due to the excellent show my plants grown from your Bermuda bulbs made. Send me as good this year, and I will ask no more."

From a photograph taken the week before Easter, 1890, showing a view in one of our new iron greenhouses, here at Tarrytown, 20 feet in width by 140 feet in length, of a crop of Liliun Harrisii in full bloom. This house produced over 15,000 flowers for Easter.
